Sir:

This Supplemental Information Disclosure Statement is provided as a supplement to the Information Disclosure Statement filed on January 26, 2005. The references provided in the January 26, 2005 IDS were cited in a European Search Report that was not related to the above-captioned application. The references cited in the January 26, 2005 IDS were therefore provided unintentionally. A new set of references are provided herewith to correct the above problem.

As a means of complying with the duty of disclosure set forth in 37 CFR § 1.53 and in keeping with the guidelines of 37 CFR 1.98, Applicants hereby submit information thought to be relevant to the examination of the above-identified application, Also submitted herewith is a completed form PTO-1449.

This information was cited in a European search report dated January 12, 2005, and it is hereby certified that this disclosure is being made within three months of that date.

No final office action has been received in this application.

United States Patent 5,647,011, Gravis, relates to a portable sound system which is used in conjunction with headphones. The system is capable of recognizing sound and can disengage the connection between the sound system and the headphones when sound is recognized.

United States Patent 5,243,659, Stafford et al. relates to a motorcycle stereo audio system that includes an intercom system between the motorcycle rider and a passenger.

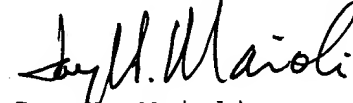

European Patent Application 0495653 A1, Smiedt, relates to an audio system with headphones that allow a user to hear ambient sound when listening to the headphones.

International Patent Application Publication No. WO
00/42797 A1, Hutchinson et al., relates to a wireless communication device and connectable external accessories.
The device is capable of identifying when an external accessory has been connected to the device. The device is able to identify the type of that external accessory.
